

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*Historic Biltmore calls on full range of HME Wireless paging solutions for its latest restaurant, *Cedric's Tavern

SEPTEMBER 8, 2010 – ATLANTA, GA – The historic Biltmore estate in Asheville, NC, has turned to restaurant paging solutions from HME Wireless to extend a tradition of flawless service and gracious hospitality to its guests. Deployed in its newest restaurant, Cedric's Tavern, the restaurant paging products help Biltmore staff respond more quickly to customer needs, and deliver a more satisfying guest experience.

“Impeccable service is a hallmark here at Biltmore,” said Cedric's Tavern Food and Beverage Director Brian Ross. “Together, these products allow us to deliver on that promise — invisible to the guest. And because I carry a pager that’s tied to the entire system, we can ensure a timely response to any situation that may arise.”

Cedric's Tavern is using a full complement of paging solutions to enhance operational efficiency and keep customers satisfied. With HME Wireless GuestCall restaurant pagers, waiting patrons are free to take in the magnificent surroundings nearby, or enjoy a drink at the bar, without fear of losing their table. ServerCall restaurant staff pagers allow kitchen staff to page servers as soon as orders are ready, ensuring that food is delivered hot and timely. TableScout handheld transmitters allow wait and bus staff to automatically update the reservation system from the floor, so tables turn quickly. And Push Button Paging allows banquet hall guests to call for assistance whenever they need it.
